What Does NFT Mean

The non-tradable token, or non-fungible token (NFT for short), is a unit of data stored in a digital ledger called a blockchain, which confirms that a digital asset is unique and therefore not interchangeable.[1] NFTs can be used to represent items such as photos, videos, audio, and other types of digital files. However, access to any copy of the original file is not limited to the recipient of the NFT. While copies of these digital items are available for anyone to acquire, NFTs are tracked on blockchains to provide the owner with proof of ownership separate from copyright.

In 2021, interest in using NFT has increased. Blockchains like Ethereum, Flow, and Tezos have their own standards for supporting NFTs, but each works to ensure that the digital item represented is uniquely unique. NFTs are now used to commodify digital assets in art, music, sports and other popular entertainment. Most NFTs are part of the Ethereum blockchain; however, other blockchains may implement their own versions of NFT.[2]

NFT's market capitalization tripled in 2020, exceeding $250 million.[3] The rise of NFT transactions has led to increased environmental criticism. Computationally heavy processes associated with proof-of-work blockchains, the type primarily used for NFTs, require high energy inputs that contribute to global warming. The carbon emissions generated by the energy required to sustain these blockchains have forced some in the NFT market to rethink their carbon footprint. -Wikipedia-

What is Tom's Sad Life Nft Collection

Tom's Sad Life Nft collection is a collection built on the Ethereum blockchain, which will be mint on opensea. The collection is based on the dramatic life of a fictional character named Tom. The drawings in the collection consist of Tom's hats, hairstyles, facial expressions, the tobacco products he uses, the clothes he wears, tracksuits, trousers, and shoes. Tom owners can participate in DAO, award-winning games, giveaways and events in our community.

The Roadmap of the Collection

The main purpose of Tom's Sad Life roadmap is long-term. This is why the requirement level of the trailing phases is this. We expect it to take at least a year to achieve all goals. Phase 1 = Our first phase is to list 25% of NFTs. The floor price will be 0.015ETH. Phase 2 = We think that giveaways have a huge place in the Nft world. With the giveaways we will make, our community will grow more and more. We will do these giveaways on Twitter and Discord. Phase 3= The meaning of Phase 3 is to mint all the 10 thousand with ERC-721 and list them at a higher price. We all give the same NFTs to our first collection owners. Phase 4= Our advertisement display on Rarity Sniper will cause the biggest rise of our collection and you will be able to see what Tom ranks in value order because of the rarity sniper you will buy, own or sell. For this to happen, we need to sell 1000 Nft. Phase 5= The revenues of the Tom's Sad Life collection will be distributed to the holders proportionally to the Tom they own.. Phase 6= This phase is the game of the collection, which is what we want most. You can use your Nfts as skins while playing the game. Phase 7=Free Merch, Clothes related to Tom will be given to randomly selected people among those who hold Tom. Phase 8= Baby Toms, We will design a new collection named Baby Toms.

So What Are We Going To Do?

The main purpose of the collection is to complete the roadmap in the long run. We will do our best in this direction and we want to see the same in our community as we do this. The main purpose of our community is award-winning games, giveaways, DAO and competitions that only Tom owners can participate in. It is not our wish that our community is only on Twitter and discord. We want to represent our community on all possible social media. Another goal of ours is to start a new trend in the Nft world. The aim of this movement is for people to paint fictional characters or their own lives and put these lives on paper and turn them into Nft collections.

DAO

To us, the true meaning of DAO is. It is the fact that the NFT owners are fully involved in the management of that collection. We will implement the DAO on discord. Thanks to the 💡 -dao-ideas channel, you will be able to express your ideas at any time, and the bot will send us directly what you have written. After that, we will discuss how logical this idea is within the team. After that, we will share this idea on the 💬 -general-chat channel without giving your name. After a certain period of time people discuss, we will start an election on the 🗳️ -dao-polls channel. This selection is 12, 24, 36, 48, we have 4 different options. We will determine this according to the size of the idea. There will be 3 keys in front of you in the selection, namely Admit It, Reject It and Discuss. If the Admit It comes high as a result of the selection, your idea will be implemented. If Reject It comes high as a result of the election, your idea will not be implemented. If the Discussion is high as a result of the election, your idea will be discussed again. In the scoring of the selection, the roles are of great importance. The game score you give changes according to your NFT number.

Bronze Tom: 1 point

Silver Tom: 1.5 points

Gold Tom: 3 points

Platinum Tom: 5 points

Diamond Tom: 10 points

We would love for you guys to become Tom owners and join the DAO. Thanks to DAO, you don't need to extract an NFT collection to manage an NFT collection. Only by becoming the owner of Tom, you can also become a manager.

Tom's Design

Tom is a collection of 10,000 different Nfts. The drawings in the collection are as follows.

- 15 hats and hair
- 14 facial expressions
- 26 t-shirts, tuxedos, sweater

The number of drawings of the Tom's Sad Life collection is exactly like that. Drawings will be mint in 512x512 format. Some of the drawings were drawn in 64x64, and some in 512x512.

Tom's Sad Life

Tom went to high school at the age of 16. He is the only child of a wealthy family whose father is a business person and mother is a former model. Tom has always been very good in his studies since he was a kid, the main reason being that Tom went to the best schools in America due to his family's wealth, but since Tom passed 3rd high school, his lessons have been messed up and so has his life. Tom has a very happy childhood and his family is proud of his success in his studies. Tom doesn't experience any serious difficulties in his life during primary and secondary school, but when he comes to high school, it all started when he liked Jennifer, who was in his next class, and he asked her out for the second term. Jennifer accepts this. Tom and Jennifer have a beautiful relationship. With this motivation, Tom goes further in his studies and becomes the top student in the school. Tom and Jennifer have a serious relationship that lasts for 2 years, but in the summer Tom realizes that he has been cheated on, he does not tell Jennifer about this for a certain period of time, but the first week of school he goes to Jennifer. He tells Jennifer that he wants to break up because he knows he has been cheated on. Jennifer denied this, but Tom had seen it with his own eyes. Tom falls into depression with the pain of being cheated on and the pain of separation. Tom can't listen to the lessons and his success in the lessons is declining day by day, and his family realizes this and they hire a private tutor for Tom. No matter how much Tom didn't want it, school success is very important for his family, but school success means nothing to Tom anymore because there is nothing from the lessons anymore. If you ask him, he doesn't know what subject they are in which lesson. Tom, whose success at school is declining day by day, learns that his father's business is going very badly, and a few months later, he learns that his father has gone bankrupt. Her father opens a furniture store with her remaining money and her mother tries to become a model again, but no agency would accept it. That's why his mother and father try to manage this shop together. After a certain period of time, they cannot get along with what they earn from the shop. So they have to sell their houses and cars. Tom no longer has to go to school by bus, but on foot. Tom goes to one of the best schools in America in high school, just like in elementary and middle school, but after a while, this school becomes a serious burden to his family and they enroll Tom in another school. As sad as Tom was, he was happy that he would no longer see Jennifer. Tom starts making new friends at his new school and starts getting good at his studies again. When everything is going well, Tom goes to the store and can't see his father. When he turns towards the back of the store, he sees that his father is cheating on his mother. Tom just stares for minutes. Tom doesn't have anything anymore and he starts running towards the house crying. When he comes home, he immediately goes to his mother and tells the story by crying. Her mother runs towards the shop and she encounters the same sight. His wife can't say anything. They divorced after a week. Tom begins to stay with his mother. Her mother now goes to two jobs. Since Tom can't even buy a textbook and his problems are not over, the school will be the last. Tom can't stand it anymore. He sits by the window of their 4th floor house and thinks of suicidal thoughts. Tom thinks of what he's going through and starts crying and reproaching God. Tom starts writing a suicide letter. Mom, I can't stand it anymore. I had dreams too, but they destroyed them one by one. My father and school come first among those who do this. I was never successful in school, but I looked successful thanks to the private lessons I took and the schools I went to. I wish everyone could learn what they want in school but there is nothing I can do, I'm just an idiot who sits in the same chair 8 hours a day learning the same subjects and the same lessons as everyone else and has no purpose in this life with my useless ugly, pig-like face and an idiot who can't make anyone happy, can't even understand the easiest lesson I'm a disgrace, I'm just a surplus in this life, please forgive me. Thank you for everything mom. He finishes his letter. Tom puts the letter on his desk, heads towards the window and sees his phone flashing, wondering if it was news. At least let me read the news for the last time, says Tom. This was news about Nfts. While Tom Nft is investigating why, he realizes that it is 3 am. Tom says at least I have an Nft collection. He takes care of Nfts until the morning, goes to school at 7 am and only has Nfts on his mind at school. Tom returns home from school and sees that his Nft has been sold. With hope, it starts to produce more Nfts and at the end of 1 week all Nfts are sold. He tells his mother about Nfts and says that he won exactly $1000, his mother starts crying Tom thinks it's from happiness, but he didn't know that his mother actually read Tom's suicide letter. His mother wouldn't let Tom notice. Tom continues to produce Nft during the day until summer vacation comes. When summer vacation comes, Tom spends 3 months putting out a huge collection and before the first semester of school ends, Tom becomes a millionaire. He and his mother move into a very nice house, and Tom tells his mother to quit the job. In March, Tom participated in a television show. Years pass by when his mother greets him at home with tears. Tom finished high school but did not attend college and started his own company. Tom now has a magnificent fortune, but there is a problem with his mother's health. While sitting at home with her mother, her mother has a heart attack. Tom rushes his mother to the hospital. They immediately take her mother to the intensive care unit, but unfortunately her mother dies. While Tom is sitting on the hospital chairs, a doctor comes to him. Tom seemed to remember her from somewhere. The doctor sits next to him and says Hi Tom. Tom sees the doctor's badge and sees that it says Jennifer on it. Tom still has nothing to say. He stutters and says hi. Jennifer says I hope you remember me. Tom says yes a lot. "I'm so sorry about everything, I was a kid, I was stupid, I didn't know what I was doing," Jennifer said. Tom says it's okay, it's been a long time since we were both kids. Jennifer says but I have sad news for you. What is it said Tom. Jennifer says we couldn't save your mother. Tom just started crying and hugged Jennifer. Tom didn't know what to do. Jennifer handed him a piece of paper. Your mother asked me to give it to you. Tom put the paper in his pocket. After a while, Tom returned home, alone this time. Tom opened the paper and began to read it was his suicide letter. Tom started crying and realized that there was another piece of paper inside, it was his mother's letter. My handsome son Tom. I know you're going through a tough time, but please don't do this to yourself, never give up. I knew that you would be successful one day, of course, and a mother's advice to you, don't care what people say, look, I cared, what's left is nothing. Tom looks at the clock crying and realizes that it is 3 am and continues to cry.

Our Thoughts About the Future of NFT - CRYPTOCURRENCIES

As we said at the beginning, one of the biggest revolutions after the internet is cryptocurrencies. With the development of cryptocurrencies day by day, it is impossible not to develop Nfts, which is a branch of it. Please try to understand Nft and cryptocurrencies. Look at them technologically, not just to make money. Become aware of this great revolution. The world of finance and life will change all over again. Most people who have invested in cryptocurrencies and Nft do not realize the amazing technology behind it. Today is March 11, 2022, we hope everything will change when you read this text.
